

Science

is trying to catch a small black cat
in a large dark room.

ART

is trying to catch a small black cat
that may or may not be in a large dark room.

PHILOSOPHY

is trying to catch a small black cat
in a large dark room, when there is no cat.

POLITICS

is trying to catch a small black cat
in a large dark room when there is no cat, while pretending one has caught the cat and knows all about it.

ReLiGiOn

is trying to catch a small black cat
in a large dark room when there is no cat, while pretending one has caught the cat, knows all about it, and demanding others testify they too have caught the cat and know all about it.

-Wayne Lanter